

HARD BARGAIN

NO CHEMICALS + NO GMO'S

It's time to offer our current and new customers a chance to purchase healthy, no chemical and no GMO popcorn, brown and white rice. It takes three transitional years of growing crops organically before it can be certified organic. In the interim, we want to provide these transitional grains to our customers that are price point conscious. They should also feel comfortable to purchase and enjoy delicious locally grown grains at deep discount prices.

Lastly, we expect this opportunity will encourage other conventional farmers to switch to organic farming. We are naming this new brand "Hard Bargain" after discovering that it was the original name of our town. The story goes like this... The early settlers of our community, after naming the town Hard Bargain, decided it was time to apply for a US Post Office. The Federal Government turned down the request saying the name Hard Bargain was inappropriate. The town folks changed the name to Braggadocio and was awarded a US Post Office!!
